RE-OPENED 2016

Gawthorpe Hall

This superb Jacobean house is a real gem. Built for the Shuttleworth family (1600-5), the hall sits elegantly in the shadow of Pendle Hill. Sir Charles Barry – architect of the Houses of Parliament – remodelled rooms in Victorian times. Discover how the family lived and explore fabulous pieces from the Gawthorpe Textile Collection, amassed by Miss Rachel Kay Shuttleworth, the last of the family to live here. Seasonal opening.
